About the book - In the 25th century humankind has spread throughout the galaxy. While religious, class, and racial divisions still exist (monitored by the watchful eye of the UN), technology has changed in ways that have redefined life itself. Now a person's consciousness can be stored and routinely downloaded into a new body, making death little more than an inconvenience.

Ex-UN envoy Takeshi Kovacs has been killed before, but his last death was particularly brutal. Sent across light years of space, re-sleeved into a body in San Francisco and thrown into the center of a conspiracy that is vicious even by the standards of a society that has forgotten how to value "life," he soon realizes that the shell that blew a hole in his chest was only the beginning of his problems.

The Last Days of New Paris by China Miéville

(ISBN 9781524797485 $15.00)

1941 - In the chaos of wartime Marseille, American engineer—and occult disciple—Jack Parsons stumbles onto a clandestine anti-Nazi group, including Surrealist theorist André Breton. In the strange games of the dissident diplomats, exiled revolutionaries, and avant-garde artists, Parsons finds and channels hope. But what he unwittingly unleashes is the power of dreams and nightmares, changing the war and the world forever.

1950 - A lone Surrealist fighter, Thibaut, walks a new, hallucinogenic Paris, where Nazis and the Resistance are trapped in unending conflict, and the streets are stalked by living images and texts—and by the forces of Hell. To escape the city, he must join forces with Sam, an American photographer intent on recording the ruins, and make common cause with a powerful, enigmatic figure of chance and rebellion: the exquisite corpse.

But Sam is being hunted. And new secrets will emerge that will test all their loyalties—to each other, to Paris old and new, and to reality itself.

The Guillermo del Toro tie-in, 'The Shape of Water' (ISBN 9781250165343 $26.99) releases in February

Currently available - Guillermo del Toro's The Shape of Water: Creating a Fairy Tale for Troubled Times (ISBN 9781683832256 $45.00)

About the book - Guillermo del Toro, the famed director of Pan's Labyrinth, and celebrated author Daniel Kraus craft an otherworldly story set against the backdrop of Cold War-era America, scheduled for release as a film starring Academy Award-winner Octavia Spencer, Academy-Award nominees Sally Hawkins and Richard Jenkins, and Michael Shannon on December 1, 2017.

Visionary storyteller Guillermo del Toro and celebrated author Daniel Kraus combine their estimable talent in this haunting, heartbreaking love story.

The Shape of Water is set in Cold War-era Baltimore at the Occam Aerospace Research Center, which has recently received its most sensitive asset ever: an amphibious man captured in the Amazon. What unfolds is a stirring romance between the asset and one of the janitors on staff, a mute woman who uses sign language to communicate with the creature.

Developed from the ground up as a bold two-tiered release—one story interpreted by two artists in the independent mediums of literature and film—The Shape of Water weaves together fantasy, horror, and romance to create a tale that is equally gripping on the page and on the big screen.

Prepare for an experience unlike anything you've ever read or seen.

How to Stop Time by Matt Haig (ISBN 9780525522874 $26.00)

“The first rule is that you don’t fall in love,’ he said...’There are other rules too, but that is the main one. No falling in love. No staying in love. No daydreaming of love. If you stick to this you will just about be okay.”

Tom Hazard has a dangerous secret. He may look like an ordinary 41-year-old, but owing to a rare condition, he’s been alive for centuries. Tom has lived history—performing with Shakespeare, exploring the high seas with Captain Cook, and sharing cocktails with Fitzgerald. Now, he just wants an ordinary life.

So Tom moves back to London, his old home, to become a high school history teacher—the perfect job for someone who has witnessed the city’s history first hand. Better yet, a captivating French teacher at his school seems fascinated by him. But the Albatross Society, the secretive group which protects people like Tom, has one rule: Never fall in love. As painful memories of his past and the erratic behavior of the Society’s watchful leader threaten to derail his new life and romance, the one thing he can’t have just happens to be the one thing that might save him. Tom will have to decide once and for all whether to remain stuck in the past, or finally begin living in the present.

How to Stop Time is a bighearted, wildly original novel about losing and finding yourself, the inevitability of change, and how with enough time to learn how, we just might find happiness.
